

The Vagina Monologues

MYTH #8

The play is based on true stories

False. Eve Ensler has stated that she made up the majority of the stories in the book—meaning that these “true stories” are merely fantasized composites. Ensler added a shock factor to the stories that takes away from the true issue of violence against women that actually happens in the world today.

The V-Day website provides no evidence that any interviews occurred or that any women mentioned even exist.
